

HURST GREEN NEWS

October 2014

Published on 4 October

Good Neighbours

Some 2,700 copies of Hurst Green News are printed each month and posted through front doors throughout this community. It's an incredible undertaking made possible by a team of around 80 volunteers who between them fold the newsletter and then deliver it. A big thank you to everyone who is involved! It seems to be appreciated by those who receive it. Fortunately it does not have to compete with too many pizza or double glazing leaflets on door mats in Hurst Green!

I sometimes consider who behind those front doors picks it up and reads it through. There are those with young children who appreciate the events which are publicised which they might attend. There are those enjoying retirement who have time during the day to go to an art group, lecture or recital. There are those rushing off to work who may give it a quick glance to check they're up to date with the community and perhaps read it on the train. And then there are those who are more house bound and, through older age, inclination or any number of other reasons, are unable to attend the events on offer but for whom the newsletter itself provides a welcome connection to the local community.

How much do we know about those who live behind the front doors in our road? How much should we know? I've been thinking a lot lately about those we don't know at all, who keep themselves to themselves but perhaps not through choice. Many, many years ago I used to enjoy the soap opera Neighbours! The theme tune is one of those annoying songs that to this day sticks in my mind "Neighbours...everybody needs good neighbours... with a little understanding you can find the perfect blend... neighbours should be there for one another, that's when good neighbours become good friends". Annoying though it is, it does contain some truth! So I encourage you to try and greet and get to know someone in your street who you haven't met before. You never know when they might need you or you need them.

And of course never forget that your local churches and the people in them are your neighbours too. So if you're reading this and are desperate to get out more but can't, or would like someone to visit you for a chat and a cup of tea, then do not hesitate to get in contact with us (our phone numbers are over the page). One of the most famous sayings of Jesus is "Love your neighbour as yourself." We can and should do that for one another. And the churches here in Hurst Green in particular represent the friendship and love of Jesus for you all.

Love in Christ, Revd Anna Eltringham, St John's Hurst Green and St George's Crowhurst

A prayer from the C of E Prayer Book (Common Worship)

Jesus, our companion, when we are driven to despair, help us, through the friends and strangers we encounter on our path, to know you as our refuge, our way, our truth and our life. Amen

What is this?

You may have seen similar black and white boxes in advertisements in magazines, on posters or in newspapers. It is a QR Code. QR or Quick Response Codes are a type of two-dimensional barcode that can be read using smartphones, that link directly to text, emails, websites, phone numbers and more! If you have a smartphone like an iPhone, Android or Blackberry then there a number of different barcode scanner applications (or Apps) such as Red Laser, Barcode Scanner and QR Scanner that can read and decode data from a QR code. The majority of these are completely free, and all you have to do once you install one is to use your phone's camera to scan the barcode, which will then automatically load the encoded data for you. If you scan this particular QR code, it will take you straight to the homepage of the St John's Church website.

Come and enjoy a VARIETY CONCERT St John's Church, Church Way Saturday 25 October at 7.30pm

TRAIDCRAFT

Fighting poverty through trade

FAIRTRADE ONLINE

Did you know that Fairtrade is part of the shopping revolution? Their whole catalogue range is available for online shopping at www.traidcraftshop.co.uk. (No, that is not a spelling mistake, the name reminds us what a practical way this is to give a little aid to people who need it). You can browse groceries and household goods as well as fashion, crafts, stationery, gifts and lots more. Deliveries are free for orders over £50 and goods can be returned or exchanged if necessary.

Online shopping is now such a part of our lives it is a great way to access Fairtrade. Items bought online benefit the producers even more than Fairtrade items bought in the supermarket as the producers receive the "Fairtrade Premium" which helps to fund local community projects.

I hardly dare to mention that Christmas is not that far away, an excellent time to explore the wide range of gifts and cards. There are cards for all occasions in a wide range of attractive designs, which are very good value. If you prefer to use a printed catalogue you can order one online and then easily order by page number. Kath McCarthy

Hurst Green Gardening Club

With the leaves falling thick and fast, rake them off lawns to help aerate the roots; prune roses, which is difficult as they seem to still be blooming, but important to prevent wind-rock. Insulate sun-loving, fragile shrubs with either fleece or bubble wrap; good time to lift and divide overgrown clumps of herbaceous perennials. I have taken cuttings from a large pelargonium plant which has been really beautiful this summer growing in such warm conditions. Just the right time to plant out winter bedding plants, such as wallflowers and violas (winter pansies), also tulip bulbs into warm soil to give them time to settle in readiness to give a superb show during April/May. Those of us who have heavy clay soil, when the soil gets very soggy later during Autumn heavy rain, mulching will help to maintain soil structure until early spring when the soil should be workable! Don't forget that your indoor plants need very little water now and hopefully geranium cuttings and pelargonium cuttings will give a good cheery display on a sunny windowsill during the coming winter months!

Why not join us at our monthly Gardening Meetings at St Agatha's Hall every second Wednesday? We have a varied programme of interesting speakers covering all aspects of tips on gardening. Our next Meeting is on 8 October entitled the Four Gardens of the RHS (speaker Graham Usher). Make yourself known to me or one of the members on arrival and come enjoy a friendly evening among like-minded gardening folk! Jane Firmin

Gardeners' Question Time

In aid of the Oxted District Guide Hut and other Oxted and Limpsfield Inner Wheel charities

An evening of Gardeners' Question Time is to be held on Wednesday 22 October at 7 for 7.30pm in the White Hart Barn Godstone. The panel includes Jim Buttress, member of RHS committees and TV star on the Allotments Programme; Lizzie Dobbs, author and journalist, working for 11 years for Which; Keith Lewis, specialist on daffodils and herbaceous borders and Cary Furness, head gardener at Penshurst Place. This is a great opportunity to meet and hear these well-known experts.

Questions must be sent in advance by Friday 17 October to Sylvia Pocock: spocock01@icloud.com. Tickets are £12 to include buffet supper, and can be obtained from Pam Knight, phone 01342 892347.

Inner Wheel, the largest worldwide organisation for women, was formed in 1924. It is an independent organisation linked with the local Rotary Clubs. The Oxted and Limpsfield Inner Wheel Club raises funds to support local and international charities, and responds to disasters at home and abroad. Members develop friendships, have fun within the club and have the opportunity to meet with other national and international members.

MY CHANGING WORLD

I have lived in Hurst Green for over 50 years and have been a supporter of St John's for all that time. There have been so many changes in my lifetime, including organised religion.

My first experience was when I was evacuated to the Rhondda Valley to escape the London blitz, aged 9. We attended the famous old Saron Chapel three times every Sunday, all in Welsh. I can still remember the Lord's Prayer in Welsh, and my favourite hymns are still Diadem, Calon Lân and Aberystwyth.

After the war I returned to London and joined the Youth Club attached to Southwark Cathedral; this brought me into contact with the Cathedral. The Cathedral catered for the range of religious tastes from simple to very elaborate. Eight o'clock communion was a very intimate affair in the Lady Chapel. Ten o'clock in the Cathedral with full choir it was pretty much middle of the road for that time; it was the time of the South Bank Festival of Britain exhibition. Evensong was in All Hallows, a daughter church of the Cathedral with candles, incense and bells - the full works under Father Douglas Rhymes. We also had a Father (Alan) Christmas.

I have always thought that Christianity was based on Christ's two commandments, to love God and our neighbour as ourselves, and that was all that is necessary. Over the years so many things have been added as being essential to belief, it has caused dissention in the various strands of the Church and even separates people from it. Many traditional essentials have not stood the test of living in the modern world, including the bars to women's advancement. Women have been priests for twenty years, why did it take so long to approve women Bishops? We had a number of women Deans already so the step towards Bishop was small. I do not regard this as anything to do with equality or women's rights. Bishops should be appointed on the person's faith and ability, be they male or female.

I am sure the world will keep on changing; we will have to see how organised religion lives with these changes. Terry Marnell
